Dear Mr. Ahumada,

Enclosed is my Vita, the main item left off being that from 1971 to 1973 I lived in Camp #1 (Bonifacio Correa crew) of Tenneco Farming Company's Ducor Ranch, except for a two-month stay in a farm labor camp in San Juan Bautista in 1973 while working for Almaden Vineyards. I feel that this experience, of living in a camp and experiencing the camp life, while studying the political and social relationships within the camp, is absolutely invaluable when it comes to administering the new Agricultural Labor Relations Act. If the State of California is to implement this law, and set up and conduct fair secret ballot elections, and protect the workers in their free exercise of the guarantees of the law, this kind of experience and insight into camp life is, in my opinion, absolutely essential.

For this reason, I would like to apply with the Agricultural Labor Relations Board for a position in which I could put to use this insight and experience and understanding, to further the purposes and intent of the legislation through its administration.

Best wishes to Cora and your family...

Sincerely yours,

Douglass G. Adair
